FINALLY FREED -- PIGEON, AN ARROW EXTENDING through its hody, takes off when firemen tried to lend a helping hand in Santa Monica, Calif. The foremen spotted the luckless bird perched on a rooftop across the street from their firehouse and climbed to it with a ladder. A fireman managed to grab the arrow as the bird flew by and held on tight as the pigeon pulled loose and flew to freedom. The accurate, but heartless, archer is unknown. — NEA Telephoto

NEW YORK (AP)-Police questioned neighbors today in a hunt for cines to the mysterious garage-door bombing that maimed a Staten Island housewife as she arrived home Tuesday night.

The blast went off as Concetia Ciarletta, 41, opened the garage for her husband to drive mside. She crumpled in the explosion, her less so shattered they had to be amputated.

Reports circulated that a fall, Cark youth was seen in front of the house shortly before the blast but police denied having any such information. One report was that Mrs. Giarletta had seen - and could recognize—the youth.

In the family car, she and her husband Frank, 50, had swung irto the driveway. She hopped out and opened the door. The homemade bomb went off with a roor heard a mile away.

> FROM POLIO TO PULPIT -- Being confined for over 20 years in a wheel chair has not kept Allen V. Lec of Hayfield, Minn., from leading an active church life. Lee, 50, was stricken with polic in 1938 while a senior at Luther Seminary, St. Paul. After years of treatment, Lee returned and graduated from the seminary. For the past 14 years he has been an evangelist for the Evangelical Lutheran Church, preaching all over the U.S. from his wheel chair. Last May, Lee was ordained into the ministry of the ELC.

unenlightened, primitive and savtruders into their area, not realizing with what goodwill and love ed use of cranberries grown in chemical's effects on the supposed intruders have come. The conspicuous example is of the recent martyrdom of several intensely devout Christian misby a tribe of South sionarjes American Indians. And it is here hat the truth that "the blood of he martyrs is the seed of the church" is already having its exemplification in the continued aries. One of them is the widow ial guests. of one of the men put to death, and an early convert has been one a tour of government projects in of those involved in the assas, the area and a dinner at the Cathsination. There is evidence of the olic Club. missionaries gaining a permanent tronghold.

There is another form of persecution and virtual martyrdom, not so commonly recognized, but none the less reat. It is in the area of racial projudice.

The fact that millions of Jews have been put to torture and death in concentration camps and the house. Fitled "Fighting Quakextermination chambers should er," it was a 1952 biography of not in its immensity and horror the vice president, who is also a obscure the fact of the bombing graduate of Whittier College. of synagogues in 'Christian' America. With this is the fact that if you happen to be of colored skir. seeking nothing but voting rights and the privileges which other citizens enjoy, you may have your windows broken your home bombed and be fortunate it you do not suffer, as some have, serious personal injury. Such prejudices and persecu tions involve real martyrdom. We think of Saint Paul's conver sion according to the dramatic of what happened when Paul, the persecutor, was on the way to Damaseus (Acts 22), Actually, I think, the conversion began with the martyrdom of Ste-hen, often thought of as the first of the Chrisitan martyrs (Acts 7: In what a way, and in what a man, did Stephen still live! And when one thinks of such arisings from martyrdom, is there not hope that out of the persecutions of today, dark and terrible in a world so marked with hatred and viclence, there may yet arise truth and new gains for the Kingdom of light and righteousness?
